Mark is unhappy. Today many families come here for his sister's first birthday. She gets many gifts and a big birthday cake. She catches everyone's eyes, too. The families take photos happily in the living room.

"No one cares about me. Fine!" He thinks, "If no one cares, then I can do what I want." He pokes a balloon. POP!

"Mark, stop!" Mother says quickly from the kitchen.

POP! He does it again.

"MARK!!!" Mother says angrily.

Father takes him to the bedroom and asks him to sit in a chair. Mark is ready to get a lesson. But Father just sits down next to him.

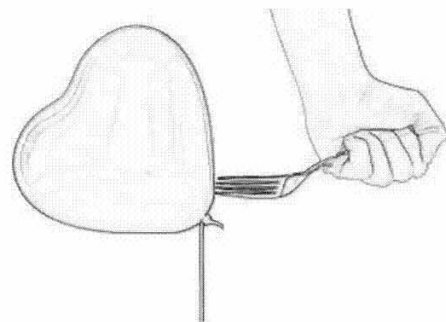

"You get all our love when you are the only child. It's hard to share it with your little sister now, right?" Father says.

Mark looks at him. "I don't see why she's so special. Who cares about me?"

"Just because you have a sister doesn't mean you're not special. Everyone loves and cares about you as usual. But you're a big brother now. Try to share your love with your sister. I know you can do it well. I'll do something just for you someday, but right now, let's have fun with your sister. OK?" Father says.

"OK." Mark smiles.

They go back to the party, and there are no more balloons getting popped. Playing with his lovely sister, Mark has some fun, too.

something with the friends, like going to the library or playing table tennis. You can talk about things that you like and share your feelings. You can stay with them and care for them when something bad happens.

But building friendships in middle school can be difficult because there are changes (变化) happening around you—your school, your teachers, your classes. These changes aren't easy to deal with (应对). So you don't need to be best friends with everyone in your grade, but you should always try to find someone that you can talk to about everything.

If you don't have any friends in your grade, here are some tips for you. First, your middle school years are all about trying new things, so don't be afraid (害怕的) to try something new! Next, don't be afraid to ask someone their interests and skills. Besides, take it easy—it takes time for people to be friendly to you, but it's wonderful when they do!

All in all, it can be hard to have new friends in middle school, but when you find someone who you connect (联系) with, it can be great! Try to get to know others—that may be the start of great middle school friendships.

27. The word “company” in Paragraph 2 probably means _____.
- A. being with a person
 - B. keeping a good feeling
 - C. dealing with a difficulty
 - D. doing a survey on interests
28. What does the writer think of making friends in middle school?
- A. It's easy to get on with new classmates.
 - B. Having close friends helps us study well.
 - C. Don't give up looking for a new friend.
 - D. Don't be friends with people in other grades.
29. Why does the writer tell us to “take it easy” in Paragraph 4?
- A. Because it needs time for people to be friends.
 - B. Because it can be great to learn new subjects.
 - C. Because it gets people afraid to make friends.
 - D. Because it's wonderful to connect with others.
30. What is the passage mainly (主要地) about?
- A. Best gifts to get from middle school friendships.
 - B. How we keep nice to our middle school friends.
 - C. New things to do with our middle school friends.
 - D. Why and how to build middle school friendships.

Clever Ideas For Your Home

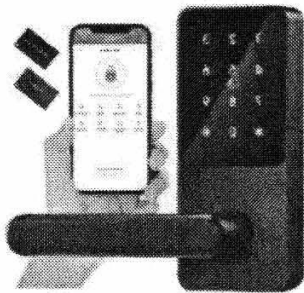

What is a smart home? In it, you can control (控制) everything with your phone or computer. Here are three new smart home ideas. They can make your life easy.

Smart light

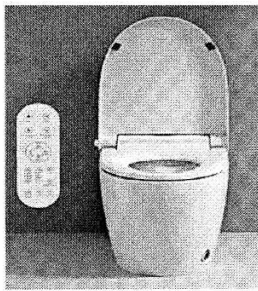

The smart light has many colors. All you need to do is to turn on your phone, open an app and choose (选择) a color. There is a speaker inside the light, so it can play music from your phone's music library. In the morning, your favorite music and the light color will help you get up!

Smart lock

With the smart lock, you don't have to worry about keys. You can use an app on your phone to open the door right away. With the app, you can name your locks and control them. The app also tells you when a lock is open or locked. It's very easy to use.

Smart toilet

In a smart home, there is always a smart toilet. The toilet doesn't need an app or the Internet. When you come close, the toilet knows and its seat goes up and down by itself. The smart toilet also helps make the air fresh (清新的) so the bathroom feels great.

31. Why can the smart light play music from your phone?
32. How can you open the door with the smart lock?
33. What does the smart toilet do when you come close?
34. Which clever idea(s) from the passage would you like to try? Why? (Please give two reasons.)
