enough energy so that we can work all day. A healthy breakfast could be bread, eggs, milk and fruit. If we eat breakfast before going to school, we will learn more quickly, and listen with more attention to class.

(8分) Do you play with your phone before bedtime? You may want to read a book instead. According to a US study, looking at screens at night can cause us to sleep poorly.

In the evening, our bodies make melatonin (褪黑素). Melatonin helps us feel sleepy and relaxed. It is an important part of our sleep cycle (周期). Our electronic screens stop that cycle from working normally.

Why? Phones, computers and TVs make blue light. Blue light stops our bodies from making melatonin. Even just a little bit of blue light can have an effect. Eight minutes of blue light can keep your brain "awake" for another hour, according to the study. Even if you fall asleep, you may have lots of dreams. Your brain won't have a good rest.

It's even worse if you play an exciting game before bed. Games make our hearts beat faster, so we have a harder time falling asleep. Then, when we fall asleep, we don't get enough "deep sleep", which results in poor health.

Use these tips to get a good night's sleep:

Have a relaxing routine every night. Take a warm shower or read a book.

Sleep in a dark, quiet room that is not too warm or too cold.

Count sheep. It's the oldest trick, and it can actually work!

Don't eat a big meal or have caffeine (咖啡因). Instead, drink milk.

Don't run around or exercise three hours before bedtime.

(30) What can we learn about melatonin?

- A. It helps us fall asleep at night.
- B. It makes us feel hungry and tired.
- C. Too much of it makes us sleep poorly.
- D. It stops our sleep cycle from going normally.

(31) How do electronic screens make it hard for us to sleep?

- A. They cannot make us feel relaxed.
- B. The blue light breaks our sleep cycle.
- C. Our brains need more time to make dreams.
- D. They make more melatonin than our bodies need.

(32) What can we learn from the passage?

- A. Getting enough deep sleep is important.
- B. Playing games helps us go to sleep quickly.
- C. Our hearts beat more slowly when we play games.

(33) What is the passage mainly about?
