"Martin, I bet you for the bicycle you want," says father.

Father says, "I have a special chair. Let me go and bring it."

Martin waits curiously (好奇地). He sees his father walking towards him with something heavy. But Martin can't see anything.

their friends to be their 'real' family. For example, loving children and adults (成人) can be invited into a family and seen as part of the family for their help and care for family members. Families offer you the most valuable things in life—support (支持) love, and a feeling of belonging (归属感). In fact, I would share some reasons why family is important in life with you.

● They make you feel confident and safe.

Families are important because we cannot live alone all the time. We need others to support us. Whether you are looking for a new job or getting through a difficult time, it's so much easier when you have your family there to give you their help and care. Your family will improve your self-esteem (自尊) and bring you the feeling of safety when you believe they are always standing by you.

● They love and understand you.

With self-esteem and safety, we may be brave enough to lead a life but we need more than that. Families are important because they provide (提供) us with love, laughter and comfort. Your family understand your habits and know the difficulties that you have been through in your life. They are willing to listen to your ideas and give you a response (回应) patiently.

● _____ 51 _____.

Whether by providing you with your first steps in education, like learning to read and write or telling you the right things to do or making up mistakes, your family can influence (影响) your ways of thinking and what you believe in for many years. Many people say that the kind and wise words of their family help to make them a better human being.

When you are faced with important choices in life, you would turn to family because they know your nature and who you are inside. They wouldn't make you become the person in their mind but be yourself.

In a word, our family can be whatever we make it. From improving your inner growth to giving you support and understanding, and influencing your habits, your family will help you achieve (实现) all of your goals.

50. The words "this idea" in Paragraph 3 mean _____.

- A. people who care and help you are real family
- B. helpful people are always invited into a family
- C. families always give you the most expensive things
- D. children enjoy a better life with their grandparents

51. What is the best heading for Paragraph 6 and 7?

- A. They know who you are.
- B. They lead you to make choices.

- C. They help to make who you are.
D. They teach you how to read and write.

52. Which of the following can be the best title of the passage?

- A. What really matters to a family
B. A real family is the key to success
C. Why real family is important in life
D. People with the same goal make a real family

D

Healthy eating for teenagers

Teenagers' diets should do good to their growth and health. If you have teenager kids, you must find out a number of changes take place inside their bodies. They influence nutritional needs. You also notice that they begin to develop real independence (独立) from you. They would like to make decisions about the food they eat. They choose a kind of food because their friends think it's good. They will also choose some good food which is helpful when they do sports.

A survey (调查) shows us information on the nutritional intake and physical activities young people in the UK often take part in. The findings show average (平均) intake of sugar and salt is too high, while that of fibre is low. Besides, they've found that more than half of the young people don't often eat any citrus fruits (such as oranges and grapes), green leafy vegetables (such as cabbages or broccolis), eggs or tomatoes. It also shows that there are more and more overweight (超重的) teenagers. It suggests that many young people are eating too much.

However, teenagers need more energy. We all hope that foods in the diet should be rich in energy and nutrients. Providing calories (卡路里) in the form of sugary or fatty snacks means low nutrient intake, so they should be encouraged to choose all different kinds of foods (See it in the picture). Besides, you should give your kids some other suggestions. For example, drink six to eight glasses of water a day. Eat regular meals, including breakfast, as it can provide important nutrients and make you feel more energetic (精力充沛的) in the mornings.

Many studies show that teenagers, especially girls, are dissatisfied (不满意的) with their weight, but in fact they are not fat at all. They would choose the most popular ways of losing weight. They don't have breakfast, or they don't eat red meat and snacks and even not eat at all, so they can't stay healthy. However, a nutritious diet is important for them because the fast growth increases (增加) the needs for these nutrients. If you teenagers want to be thin, make sure that it's appropriate (恰当的) and I suggest you teach them to ask themselves some questions like "Am I really overweight?" If they do diet, help them to do so sensibly. Strict or popular diets will be low in important nutrients and unsuccessful dieting can even lower self-esteem. Sensible eating and regular exercise are the key to beauty success. Cut down on sugary and fatty foods that have fewer calories while still having nutrients. The teenage years are a time when eating disorders can develop. If you think your teenager may have one, speak to your doctor or get in touch with us for information and advice.

53. According to the passage, teenagers may probably choose good food when _____.
- A. their parents are good at cooking
 B. they know they need them for fast growth
 C. their friends encourage them to lead an independent life
 D. they learn that good food may help them do well in sporting
54. The underlined word sensibly in Paragraph 4 probably means _____.
- A. regularly      B. wisely      C. surely      D. successfully
55. If a teenage girl wants to lose weight, what advice would you give her after reading this passage?
- A. Have strict and popular diets.
 B. Don't eat dinner and avoid red meat.
 C. Figure out if she is truly overweight.
 D. Drink six to eight glasses of water a day.
56. The purpose of the passage is _____.
- A. to show the findings of the survey
 B. to encourage teenagers to eat healthy food

 D. to share ideas on teenagers' healthy eating with parents

Make grandparents feel loved

Since 1979, Grandparents' Day has been celebrated (庆祝) in the US on the first Sunday after Labor Day. This year it was celebrated on September 10. Here are some simple and fun ways to show your grandparents how much you love them.

1. Surprise them

Even though Grandparents' Day has been marked for more than 40 years, many families don't know about it. In one survey, about 66% of grandparents said they have never celebrated Grandparents' Day. If you haven't celebrated it before, surprise your grandparents this year. This could be as simple as sending a card or making them a special treat.

2. Spend time together

Many grandparents say they wish they had more time with their grandchildren. So one of the best things you can do for Grandparents' Day is to simply spend time together. You could plan to share a meal, go for a walk, read together, or invite them to one of your activities. Another way to connect (联系) is to ask your grandparents to teach you about one of their hobbies and then do it together. This could be anything like fishing and cooking. While you do this, tell them about what's going on in your life.

3. Send a message (信息)

If you can't be with your grandparents, send them a special message. Ask your parents to help record (记录) you on video. You can start by wishing them a happy Grandparents' Day, then share some of your favorite memories of times you've spent with them. If you have brothers and sisters, they can join your video or create their own. It's like a digital (数码的) card, and your grandparents can watch it when they're missing you.

Take every chance to show your love and care for your grandparents and make the most of your time with them. It's a small action that will make a big difference in their lives.

57. How many ways of showing your grandparents love are there in the passage?

58. According to the passage, what can you do if you can't be with your grandparents?

59. What do you often do to show your love to your grandparents?
