Grace's Room

“Grace, clean your room. You cannot go anywhere or do anything fun before you finish,” Grace’s dad said.

Grace put the dirty clothes in the basket. She put the books on her shelves (书架). One book was about origami. Origami is the art of folding (折叠) paper to make animals and other things. She got it as a present with some origami paper, but she never used any of the paper.

And oh! That beautiful kite was on her desk. Her parents gave it to her when she was little. She smiled when she thought of the time she played with the kite. She looked around the room to find a place to put it. Then she had an idea. She put the kite on the wall.

Next, she went to the bookshelf and got the book about paper folding with the special paper. She looked up the directions (说明) in the book and started to make a bird. With a few careful folds, Grace soon had a fine blue bird. She thought it would look cute hanging (悬挂) from her ceiling (天花板).

Grace took out some more paper and made some more birds. She hung up five of them in different colours. She smiled as the birds danced. Her father knocked on her door.

“Dad, come in and see my room,” Grace said.

“Your room looks so immaculate!” Dad said. “Where did all the things go? The room looks great!”

As he looked around, he saw the birds hanging from the ceiling. “Hey! I really like the birds. Will you make a bird for me?” he said.

“I have a better idea. Come and sit by me,” Grace said, handing her dad a piece of paper. “The first step (步骤) is to take a piece of paper and fold it in half...”

Cooking also helps with schoolwork. You need to use maths to work out how much money you save when you cook at home. When you read a recipe (菜谱), you can learn new words. You may not see them in schoolwork.

Be Creative(有创造力的)

Part of cooking is learning to make food look good to eat. When food looks good, people think it tastes (尝起来) better. Making food look good is a way of being creative. You can arrange (排列) fruits or vegetables by colour. Or you can make a pancake with a funny face of berries for eyes and a mouth!

Not everyone will become a cook. But everyone can learn to cook. What other thing teaches so much and tastes so good?

五、阅读表达 (每题 2 分,共 8 分)

阅读短文,根据短文内容回答问题。

Birds are everywhere. There are about 10,000 kinds of birds in the world. They sing outside our windows, fly through the sky, and build their nests in the trees. But how many people really look closely at these cute friends? In fact, millions of people watch birds as a hobby.

The best time to watch birds in Beijing is early spring and mid-to-late autumn. Numbers of birds migrate (迁徙) north to have babies in summer and south to spend winter.

You can start watching and enjoying birds without any special equipment (设备) at all! Birds are often easier to find by listening than by looking. Close your eyes and listen. Can you point to where the song is coming from? When you get better at watching birds, you may need these things. A pair of binoculars can help you get a close look at a bird. A field guide (手册) is helpful, too. The pictures and information in the book can help you know what birds you're seeing. You may also need a notebook to write down the birds you find and what they are doing.

Watching birds is a fun, inexpensive way to enjoy the outdoors. When you start to take notes of the birds around you, you may find yourself more perceptive (敏锐的) of the things around you, like trees, fruits, and flowers. It is also good for your health. Looking for birds gets you outside in the fresh air and gets you moving. When you're watching birds, you'll see other people with binoculars, and you can make new friends this way.

- 30. How many kinds of birds are there in the world?
- 31. When is the best time to watch birds in Beijing?
- 32. What may you need when you get better at watching birds?
- 33. Would you like to try watching birds? Why or why not?
