Dear fellow students,

Waste sorting is becoming increasingly common around our country. I hope all of us can get involved in this meaningful activity. It is important because it can not only reduce the land pollution but also raise our awareness to protect the environment.

As students, we can do a lot for waste sorting. First of all, we should learn how to sort the waste online. Secondly, we can sort the waste by preparing some bins in different colors at home. Last but not least, it's also a good choice to put up posters to call on more people to join us.

In a word, even a small action can make a big difference to our environment. Let's pull together to start sorting the waste right now! Thank you!

Waste Sorting—A Must for Everyone

Dear Students,

Waste sorting is becoming increasingly common around our country. People are encouraged to sort waste for good reasons. To begin with, it is an effective way to cut down both air and land pollution, as otherwise more waste will be burned or buried, which will do harm to our environment. Also, when different kinds of waste are mixed, there is a great loss in possible resources for the future. Therefore, it is high time for everyone to sort waste!

As students, there are lots of things we can do. First, sorting at home is a must. To make waste sorting easier, we can prepare bin bags in different colors for particular kinds of waste. Second, we can make posters on the necessity and importance of waste sorting to call on more people to take action. Only when every citizen develops a habit of sorting waste can our environment be better protected. It's a matter of great urgency and we must go into action now!

The Hero in My Heart

Many ordinary people are regarded as heroes in fighting coronavirus. Among them, the security guard in my community is the hero in my heart. He kept working on his post without complaint. When we were stuck at home, he stayed at the gate of the community day and night. He not only took our temperature, but also recorded the information of each visitor. He risked his own life for our safety and made contributions to keeping the virus from spreading.

His spirit of dedication has influenced me a lot. It is his strong sense of responsibility that moved me. His efforts always remind me to treasure the peaceful life that we are living now. When I grow up, I will spare no effort to help people around me.

The Hero in My Heart

Many ordinary people are regarded as heroes in fighting coronavirus. The hero in my heart is Zhong Nanshan, who is admired and respected by all the Chinese.

During the epidemic, he reassured the public and dedicated himself to the battle regardless of his own safety. At the beginning of the outbreak when everyone was in panic, Academician Zhong told the truth frankly to the whole nation. He warned us not to take trips to Wuhan; nevertheless, he headed there to fight the disease. He kept working day and night despite his advanced age, leading the team to figure out the therapies to save more lives. It was his wisdom and dedication that helped to keep the virus under control.

I was deeply inspired by his sense of responsibility to serve the people and the country whenever needed. His heroic deeds not only encourage me to be brave to embrace challenges, but also motivate me to work harder to serve our country. I will make efforts to equip myself with expertise and develop professional skills in my future career to make the world a better place to live in.
