There was once a little girl named Molly. Her dad was good at gardening. Every day, he worked in a small garden at the back of their house. Molly would quietly watch her dad working in the garden. She wondered how the little seeds(种子) grew into seedlings and those into big plants. The beautiful colors of flowers and fruits made her excited. "When I grow up, I shall work in the garden like dad," she would think. Then one day, dad brought her some books, notebooks, pencils, and an eraser because she would go to school soon. Molly had seen her elder brother sharpening(磨) his pencil every day. Every time he sharpened the pencil, it looked smaller. And his eraser also became smaller because he used it every day.

Suddenly, she had an idea. Why not plant a pencil and an eraser as dad planted the roses? Molly filled a flowerpot(花盆) with earth. She stuck a pencil in it, with the sharpened end pointing upwards. She fixed the eraser started growing! She hid her pot behind tall plants.

Molly watered her pot daily. Every day she would look carefully for signs of growing. She wondered why her pencil and eraser did not grow.

One day she asked her dad, "Why is my plant not growing, dad?" "What plant?"

Molly showed him her pot with the pencil and the eraser stuck on it. Dad laughed and said,

"My little girl, pencils and erasers don't grow on their own. They grow in you. When you go to school, you'll understand and feel their growing inside you!"

"Then what flowers will they grow inside me?"

"That's up to you! They'll grow in the way you'd like!"

C. Some notebooks, pens, and an eraser.
D. Some books, pencils, and an eraser.

51. Who planted the pencil?

- A. Molly B. Molly's dad
C. Molly's elder brother D. Molly's younger brother

52. How do pencils and erasers grow according to her dad?

- A. By water B. By time C. By heart D. By earth

C

1970 was "World Conservation(保护) Year". The UN wanted everyone to know that the world was in danger. They hoped something could be done. Here is one example of the problem. At one time there were 1,300 kinds of plants, trees and flowers in Holland, but now only 866 are left. The others have been destroyed(毁灭) by modern people and their science. We are polluting earth, air, water and everything around us. We can't live without these things. If things go on like this, we shall destroy ourselves.

What will happen in the future? Perhaps it's more important to ask "What must we do?" More and more young people have known this. Many of them are helping to save our earth. For example, they plant trees. In a small town in the United States a large group of girls cleaned the banks of 11 kilometres of their river. Young people may hear about conversation through a song called "No one's going to change our world". It was made by Cliff Richard and other singers. The money from it will help to conserve tigers, elephants and pandas on the earth.

53. The UN set up "World Conservation Year" because_____.

- A. the world was in danger of war
B. the government had done something to protect the world
C. many things were destroyed by the technology
D. man and his technology destroyed the earth badly

54. "NO ONE'S GOING TO CHANGE OUR WORLD" is_____.

- A. a record B. a song C. a book D. a CD

55. Which of the following ways is NOT mentioned helpful to environmental protection in this passage?

- A. planting trees
B. cleaning the banks of rivers.
C. picking rubbish

D. listening to the record by Beatles and other singers.

56. The passage mainly tells us _____.

A. the people who will be living in the world of tomorrow are the young of today

B. what will happen in the world in the future

C. conservation of nature is necessary

D. everyone has known the importance of conservation of nature

D

Many teens in high school want to try out for sports. A lot of them try out because they think it will make them popular or get them more dates. While this may seem like a silly reason, there are lots of other benefits to sports that your children may fail to notice. Here are some reasons that you'll find comforting.

With TV, movies, computers and video games becoming more and more popular, it has become so much easier for teens to be by themselves rather than going out with friends. Kids used to go hang out at the mall or drive around town; now they just sit at home. Getting your teens into a sport gives them a chance to go out and spend time with other people socially. While they may not find a new best friend, they will learn how to communicate with one another and work as a team and they'll find something useful later in life.

One of the biggest problems in our society today is obesity, and it's not just a problem with adults. More and more kids are becoming overweight. Joining a team sport will help teens get out and get some exercise without feeling pressured (有压力的) to lose weight or get in shape. What's more, if your teens see that their physical condition is causing them to under-perform, they may be encouraged to do other activities to get healthy. By the time your children reach their teenager year, part of good parenting will be providing them with direction and encouragement and continuing to help them develop a healthy style of living.

These days, it's becoming harder to show your teenagers that you love and support them. A great way to do this is by showing up to their game, helping them practice, and helping with team fundraisers. These are also great ways to spend time with your kids and talk to them.

You may think "but my teen isn't good enough to make their school team". There are plenty of other places besides school to play team sports. You can always check out "for-fun" teams. You could look into more unknown sports that you may not have thought of, did you know that bowling is a NCAA team sports. If you do a little research, you're sure to find something your teen will enjoy.

Team sports are a great way for teens to get out of the house, get moving, make friends, and even get a scholarship to college. So why not talk to them about getting into sports today?

57. From paragraph 2, we know that _____.

A. sports help teens to make best friends with others

B. movies and video games are more popular than sports

C. teens prefer playing with friends outdoors to staying at home

D. sports help teens learn how to talk and work with others

58. The underlined word "obesity" in Paragraph 3 probably means "_____".

A. feeling very lonely

B. taking less exercise

C. having too much body fat

D. having too much pressure

59. The writer may agree that _____.
- A. encouragement helps teens develop a healthy style of living
 - B. trying out for sports can make teens popular or get more dates
 - C. being present at your teens' game shows your support to them
 - D. teens on "for-fun" teams are better at playing unknown sports
60. What's the best title of the passage?
- A. The Ways of Doing Team Sports
 - B. The Advantages of Sports for Teens
 - C. The Free-Time Activities for Teens
 - D. The Purpose of Trying out for Sports

八. 阅读短文, 根据短文内容回答问题。(共10分, 每小题2分)

There have been many great inventions, things that changed the way we live. The first great invention was the one that is still very important today—the wheel. This made it easier to carry heavy things and to travel long distance. For hundreds of years after that there were few inventions that as much effect as the wheel. Then in the early 1800s the world started to change. There was little unknown land left in the world. People didn't have to explore much anymore. They began to work instead to make life better.

In the second half of the 19th century many great inventions were made. Among them were the camera, the light and the radio. These all play a big part in our daily life today.

The first part of the 20th century saw more great inventions—the helicopter in 1909, movies with sound in 1926, the computer in 1928, jet planes in 1930. This was also a time when a new material was first made. Nylon came out in 1935. It changed the kind of clothes people wore.

The middle part of the 20th century brought new ways to help people get over diseases. They worked very well. They made people healthier and allowed them to live longer. By the 1960s most people could expect to live to be at least 60.

By this time most people in developed countries had a very good life. Of course new inventions continued to be made. But man now had a desire(渴望) to explore again. The earth was known to man but the stars were not. Man began looking for ways to go into space. Russia made the first step. Then United States took a step. Since then other countries, including China and Japan, have made their own steps into space.

In 1969 man took his biggest step away from earth. Americans first walked on the moon. This is certainly just a beginning, though. New inventions will someday allow us to do things we have never yet dreamed of.

66. What can the invention of the wheel do for people?

67. Were many great inventions made in the second half of the 19th century?

68. How old could most people expect to live to be by the 1960's?
