One sunny Monday, I decided to go for a walk with my husband. On my finger was a very special 13. It was my 20th birthday gift from my grandmother.

I looked down at my ring as I began my walking, feeling as sunny as the day. You can imagine my 14 when I looked at my hand again and found the diamond(钻石) on my ring was missing. I was really worried, so I went back to look for it. I knew how small the chances were of finding it, but I still wanted to give it a try.

As I was fixing my eyes on the ground, I 15 into an old gentleman by accident.

“What’s the matter, love?” he asked nicely.

“Sorry that I ran into you,” I said. “But I 16 something. I’m really worried.”

I explained about the missing diamond and showed him the hole in my ring.

“That’s going to be 17 to find it,” he said. “Tell you what, love, I take a walk here every day. I’ll keep my eyes open for it.”

I thanked him, expecting nothing. A few days later, my husband and I met the old man again in the park.

“Guess what,” he said. “I found your diamond!”

I couldn’t believe what I saw when the gentleman handed the diamond back to me. When my husband 18 him money for his help, he refused.

The old man could have 19 kept the diamond or sold it, as it’s worth several thousand dollars. But he didn’t.

In sports we often forget that many stars are just young people. They are rich and famous so we expect them to act well. We seldom connect(联系) them with college. But college is an important time for young people to grow.

While at the University of Memphis, Joey Dorsey, 24, learned a good lesson in humility(谦逊).

The biggest basketball game of his career(职业生涯) was against Ohio State University. Before the game, Dorsey told a group of reporters that the other team wasn't good enough. He said he would get 20 rebounds(篮板球) in the game. But in the game, his team lost and Dorsey finished with zero point.

After the game, Dorsey went into hiding. He had made a fool of himself and everyone in the country knew about it. But he didn't give up. He learned from his mistake.

The next season, his college was again back in the college championship(锦标赛) game. But this time Dorsey was humble(谦虚的). The reporters tried to make him say something silly. But he didn't. He let his play do the talking.

Later Dorsey went to play for the Houston Rockets. He was the first member of his family to graduate from college. Soon he became an NBA star. But he would remember forever the lesson he learned when he was young.

25. What happened in Dorsey's biggest basketball game against Ohio State University?
A. Dorsey got 20 rebounds in the game.
B. His team won the game.
C. Dorsey didn't take part in the game.
D. Dorsey got zero point in this game.
26. What did Dorsey do after the game?
A. He decided to live in the mountains. B. He tried to make fun of himself.
C. He gave up playing basketball. D. He learned from his mistake.

27. What does the story mainly talk about?
- A. Why many stars are young, rich and famous.
 - B. Why we should study hard to go to college.
 - C. How Dorsey learned a lesson in humility in college.
 - D. How to become an NBA pop star.

Karen always complained about her house. One day I asked why she didn't look for another house. Karen answered, "I will look for another one when I come back from vacation."

Sam hated his job. However, he loved taking photos, and was taking a two-year course to get a certificate(证书). Every day he complained about his work. I asked him why he didn't give up his job and start a business of taking photos. His reply was, "When I finish my course, I will start a business."

Harry worked for a company that allowed him to retire early, but he had to have fewer pensions(养老金) after he retired. Now Harry became very weak and found it difficult to deal with his work. I was worried about his health because too much work was bad for him. "Why don't you retire, Harry? Do something that you want to do," I said. "If I were older, I would get my full pension. When the next summer comes, maybe I will," Harry replied.

There is an old saying that says: "If and When were planted, and Nothing grew." A year later, Karen is still living in the house she hates. Sam is still complaining about his job and hasn't finished his course. Harry is still working and his health is even worse. These people had a lot of stress in their lives that they could have reduced(减少). But all of them defeated(击败) themselves by thinking "if or when".

Life is too short for "ifs and whens". The next time you find yourself thinking "if or when", remember the saying: "If and When were planted, and Nothing grew."

28. Which of the following is TRUE according to the passage?
- A. Karen had a new house after she came back from vacation.
 - B. Sam was trying to stop complaining about his job.
 - C. Sam wanted to open a big company to make more money.
 - D. Harry is still working in the company now.
29. The underlined old saying in Paragraph(段落) 4 teaches us _____.
- A. how to change yourself
 - B. when to grow some plants
 - C. to stop complaining
 - D. to take action at once

九年级英语试卷 第5页(共8页)

30. What is the best title for this story?

- A. Say No to Ifs and Whens B. How to Live Longer
C. Don't Cheat Yourself D. No Hard Work, No Success

D

American Joey Graceffa, 25, is an internet superstar. He has been telling stories in his videos on YouTube for several years, and has millions of fans online. Graceffa is also a writer. His latest work is a teen novel titled Children of Eden.

The story happens in the future, after all animals and most plants have been destroyed(破坏). People have destroyed the atmosphere(大气) and used up all of the natural resources(自然资源). In order to keep people alive, the government decides to build a “paradise(乐园)” called Eden. To save the rest of the natural resources, the government makes a one-child rule. The second child of the family will be killed.

The main character, Rowan, is a twin. However her brother, Ash, was born first—making her the second child. Rowan's parents hide her in their house and never let her go outside.

As the story goes on, Rowan feels curious about the outside world. She gets away from her house and thinks it's just a one-night adventure. She finds interest in everything she meets, even making a friend. However, Rowan's night doesn't end up with a happy ending and causes a lot of events that will forever change Eden.

Graceffa believes the world in the book will be our future if we keep destroying the environment. He hopes the story can be made into a movie one day.

I'd surely recommend(推荐) this book. I think the story is full of ups and downs and is easy to follow. This book teaches kids and teens that it's OK to take risks, but every action has a consequence(后果).

31. Graceffa is famous online for _____.

- A. singing on his live show B. telling stories in his videos
C. using YouTube for many years D. writing stories for children

32. From Graceffa's story we can infer _____.

- A. the government encouraged people to have the second child
B. the government used up all of the natural resources
C. the government built a “paradise” for kids like Rowan
D. the government would kill Rowan to save natural resources

33. Graceffa wrote this story because _____.
- A. he wanted to speak for the poor people
 - B. he wanted people to protect the environment
 - C. he thought every child in a family should be taken care of
 - D. he thought life is full of ups and downs

第四节: 阅读与表达(共 10 分, 每题 2 分)

阅读下面的短文, 并根据短文内容回答问题。

Later this year, Beijing will start the country's first driverless(无人驾驶的) subway trains. The Yanfang Line—connecting part of Fangshan district center—will be the first to try out driverless technology.

According to the experts(专家) in public transportation, the new trains will make the underground railway system(系统) better. They will have an upgraded(升级的) operating system. They will reach 80km per hour and carry more than 1,200 passengers.

The development of driverless technology is opening up in other areas of transport(交通工具). Driverless cars have been a dream for many people. And in the past few years, big car companies, including Volkswagen and Toyota, have made lots of studies while they are competing with other companies, such as Google.

But with no tracks(轨道) to run on, how will driverless cars be safe? This technology is made up of many sensors(传感器) including radar(雷达) and GPS. This gives the car an exact position in the world, as well as what's around it. It also allows the car to see moving objects(物体), like other cars and people.

Pilot-free planes have also become a hot technology topic. Yet while these new kinds of technology are seen as better and safer, they do have problems. They cannot work at all without the help of computers. Just like humans, computers make mistakes—although less often. And like much of technology, it makes many workers lose their jobs. What will happen to the future bus drivers and pilots?

- 34. Will Beijing start the country's first driverless subway trains?
- 35. How many passengers will the driverless subway train carry?
- 36. What did the big companies do about the driverless technology?
- 37. Why will driverless cars be safe?
- 38. What does the writer mainly tell us in the last paragraph?

题目①

Dear John,

How is it going? I'm writing to invite you to go to the Great Wall with us. We are going there by bus this Saturday. Everybody will meet at the school gate at 8:00 in the morning. Then we will go there together. It's a good time to visit the Great Wall. There are a lot of beautiful flowers. We are going to climb the Great Wall and have a picnic there. If you want to join us, you need to wear some comfortable shoes and take some food with you. I'm sure you will have a great time.

I'm looking forward to your early reply.

Yours,

Wang Lei

题目②

I took a trip to Chengdu with my parents last summer vacation. When we got there, the weather was sunny and a bit hot.

Chengdu is famous for pandas, so we went to the zoo to see the lovely animals. They were so funny and we took lots of photos of them. I was also very glad to know that people were trying their best to protect the animals like pandas. After that, we went to taste a lot of local snacks. Most of them are so hot but delicious.

I think my trip to Chengdu was very exciting and meaningful because I not only enjoyed the beautiful scenery but also learned a lot about different cultures. I also enjoyed the time with my family.
