Somebody Loves You

One cold rainy night, I was working on my Legos in my bedroom. I was dreaming of the day when I have earned enough money to buy my favorite set. To help me, my father rewarded me one dollar a day after I jogged with him in the morning.

Suddenly, the doorbell rang. I jumped from my chair and raced to the top of the steps, wondering who would visit us on such a rainy night. My mother opened the door. Surprisingly, she found a very untidy man. Overcome by pity, my mother invited him inside to the living room.

I went downstairs quietly so I could get a better look. I couldn't hear clearly what they were saying, but I saw the man holding his head in his hands and crying, which made my chest ache.

I raced back to my room, grabbed the one-dollar coin I had got that morning, ran back to the man, put the coin in his hand and gave him a hug. At that moment, I had no idea why I did so. Feeling embarrassed, I stood still.

In a while, the stranger sat quietly with his head bowed. Tears streamed down his face as he tightly held that coin. Finally, he said, —I just thought nobody cared about me. For the last twenty years, I have been so alone... I have no family. That was the first hug I have gotten in — hmmm... I don't know how long. It's hard to believe that somebody cares.

Being a kid, I hadn't thought about what I was doing that night. I just had the reaction to the sight of someone else's pain. On our earlier morning jogs, my dad and I had talked about the importance of giving, but I hadn't had any idea of what it really meant.

Before the man left that night, my parents asked him why he had knocked on our door. He said that as he was walking along the streets, hopeless and ready to die, he had noticed a bumper sticker on the car in front of our house. The bumper (保险杠) sticker on the car read: SOMEBODY LOVES YOU.

- A. start a new life B. earn more money
C. give himself up D. keep the car sticker

Are you often in mind-wandering, enjoying the state of having nothing to do, or just standing and staring? Did you dream to get good grades and devote yourself to the tasks for a few days, however, your dream fell to zero as a TV play attracted you some day?

Do we need to have a dream? The founder of Wal-Mart, Sam Walton, says high expectation is the key to everything. The important thing in life is to have a great aim and the determination to achieve it, J. W. Goethe, the famous German poet and dramatist says. Successful people suggest that those who believe in the beauty of their dreams tend to have more self-motivation (自我激励) to keep on trying and enjoying the beauty of life.

Thomas Edison dreamed to light the world by the power of electricity. He tried over 2,000 different materials before he was able to create a market light bulb. It's hard for many of us to imagine spending so much time and energy in exploring a possibility, which is most likely to come to a dead end but for Edison, who stuck to his dream, it was just an enjoyable process. As Edison says, the most certain way to succeed is always to try just one more time.

Helena, a 17-year-old girl, dreamed to build the magnificent sculpture (雕塑) in the world. She devoted herself to observing faces around her and making sculptures. She was woken up by her dream every morning rather than her alarm clock. She said she became passionate (有热情的) out of her dream, which kept her going through any difficulties and found pleasure in it.

You can benefit a lot from your dream, but do you know the behavior that is necessary to fulfill your dream? You have a dream and you truthfully want good grades. However, you can't help playing on the smart phone and let go your homework. Or you rush through it so that you can get back to the smart phone. This is the case when the present-desire to play on your smart phone beats the will to reach the future goal, which is called immediate gratification. If you always behave like this, you may lose the chance to meet with your dream.

Your dream can inspire you. It can give you motivation to work hard. It helps you to focus on a path so that you are moving forward. Meanwhile, you need to set a long-term goal and work for it. The key to dream is concentrating on small wins, which gradually lead to genuine confidence. You will enjoy the whole process of realizing your dream as well as involving yourself into the passion of the coming life.

48. The writer talks about Helena and Edison to _____.
- A. suggest good ways of realizing your dream
 - B. show effects of dream on self-motivation
 - C. stress the great differences between them

- D. share the experiences of their success
49. The expression immediate gratification in Paragraph 5 probably means _____.
- A. enjoying pleasures here and now B. following dreams without delay
C. becoming creative in a flash D. avoiding failure all the time
50. According to the passage, the writer may agree that _____.
- A. it's necessary for you to deal with difficulties quickly
B. it's better for you to work hard than to have passion
C. setting big goals will make differences for your life
D. having your dream can help you take things light
51. Which of the following would be the best title for the passage?
- A. Keep Calm and Dream On B. Dream Bigger, Think Deeper
C. Dream a Dream and Step by Step D. Follow Your Heart, Live Your Dream

Humor

If you see humor as a certain form of entertainment (娱乐) that people are able to choose or not, you're missing some of its biggest benefits: Humor makes average-looking (外表普通的) people look cute and uninteresting people seem entertaining. Studies show that a good sense of humor even makes you seem smarter.

Best of all, humor raises your energy, and that can have an effect on everything you do at school, at work, or in your personal life. The increase of energy will even make you more willing to exercise, and that will raise your total energy even more.

Humor also transports your mind away from your daily troubles. Humor lets you better understand life and sometimes helps you laugh at even the worst of your problems.

In my experience, most people think they have a sense of humor, and to some degree that's true. But not all senses of humor are created the same as other people and therefore I thought it would be useful to include some humor tips for everyday life.

Not trying to be a joke teller.

You don't have to be the joke teller in the group in order to show your sense of humor. You can be the one who directs the conversation to fun topics that are ripe (成熟的) for others to add humor. Every party needs a straight person. You'll appear fun and funny by association (交往).

Effort counts a lot.

When it comes to in-person humor, effort is treated as a necessary part. When people see you trying to be funny, it frees them to try it themselves. So even if your own efforts at humor fall short, you might be freeing the long kept humor in others. People need to be allowed to be funny in social settings because there's always a risk that comes with humor. For in-person humor, whether it is humorous or not isn't as important as you might think. Your attitude and effort mean a lot.

Some people—and I was one of them—believe that humorous complaints about the little problems of life make humor, and sometimes that is true. However, the problem comes when you start doing too much complaint-based humor. One funny observation (观察) about problem in your life can be funny, but five is just complaining, no matter how smart you think you are.

52. What will make you more willing to exercise according to the passage?

53. Are all senses of humor created the same as other people in the writer's experience?

54. How can you show your sense of humor in the group?

55. Why do people need to be allowed to be funny in social settings?

56. What is the passage mainly about?
