完形填空

16. The school party was only two weeks away, and our children were all busy getting ready for it.

That afternoon, as I looked up from my desk, Patty was standing there. She had waited to 1 me.

"Every year the other kids are always in a p-p-p-p-play or something, singing or t-t-t-t-talking, but I g-g-g-g-get to do some 2 work for them. This year, I w-w-want to read a p-p-p-poem (诗), myself! Please, Miss Teresa!"

She was so 3 that I couldn't refuse (拒绝) her. I had to say, "Yes, you will."

I tried to find some poems for her, but none of my books was of good use. At last, I worked out a poem carefully. The poem wasn't beautiful, but it would work best for 4 .

After a moment's reading, Patty had remembered all the 5 and was prepared to do the poem.

However, I had to stop her from doing too fast. Day after day, we worked together after school. She made great progress (进步) .

Our children were having a good time at the school party, singing and playing.

The headmaster walked up to me with a piece of paper---the program list (节目单) .

"There is a ___ 6 ___ ! Look, Patty here. But she can't even say her own name well!" I had no ___ 7 ___ to explain (解释) because many of my students were going up there. So I said to him, "We know what we are doing."

Patty's turn ___ 8 ___ . She walked up there, neither fast nor slowly. She stood there. She began.

I could hardly breathe. I felt time stopped.

She said every word ___ 9 ___ . She did every line nicely. She ___ 10 ___ it!

Applause (掌声) ! Applause everywhere!

People in different countries greet in different ways. Here are some.

The United State: People shake hands when they meet for the first time. Friends and family members often hug (拥抱) or kiss on the cheek (面颊) when they see each other.

South Korea: Men bow (鞠躬) and shake hands to greet each other. Women do not usually shake hands. If you call someone, you use his or her full name. The family name comes first, then the given name.

Finland: Finns greet each other with a handshake. Hugs and kisses are only for close friends and family members.

The Philippines: The everyday greeting for friends is a handshake for both men and women. Men sometimes pat (轻拍) each other on the back.

The Parachute Jump

Jumping out of an airplane with a parachute (降落伞) isn't something most of us want to do. 1 This story is about a group of trainees (受训者) or beginners who were learning the techniques (技术) of "sky-diving" --- as the sport is known --- in a parachute jump training school.

After a brief (简洁的) introduction to the course, the instructor (教练) asked if there were any questions.

"Yes," said one of the instructor. " 2 "

"Ten dollars," said the instructor. "Any more questions?"

Another young trainee, looking very nervous, raised his hand. " 3 " He asked.

"Oh, don't worry," said the instructor. "If your parachute doesn't open, " 4 "

A. What happens if I can't open my parachute?

- B. But a few brave people do enjoy it as a sport.
 C. we'll give you your money back.
 D. how much does it cost to make one jump?.
