Hello and welcome to "Words and Their Stories". We will research into some commonly used words and expressions. Compared to other languages, American English is rich in expressions that come from animals. Wolves are important animals in the traditions and stories of America. Today we will talk about the wolf.

To begin with, there is an expression lone wolf. If we call somebody a lone wolf, he isn't a bad person, but he may like to do things by himself. In fact, he sometimes makes you think he doesn't want to be around people because he dislikes them.

Now, let's move on to the home. When having a meal, parents always tell their children not to wolf down their food. The expression "wolf down food" shows the child eats too quickly and without care. It can be bad for health.

A wolf call is the noise made by a man to show that he likes the way a woman looks. But a wolf call is not a nice thing. These men sound rude. And in fact, most women don't like wolf calls at all.

By the way, there is a popular expression about wolf from a very old story: a wolf in sheep's clothing. A wolf in sheep's clothing describes someone who acts and looks nice on the outside but is bad on the inside. It tells us that appearances can lie to people.

- 26. How many expressions can we read about wolf in the passage?
 - A. Two. B. Three.
- C. Four.
- 27. If a person is called a lone wolf, what is he probably going to do?
 - A. Help classmates to finish homework.
 - B. Make many friends with people around.
 - C. Break the window if nobody is watching.
 - D. Go to see a movie by himself after school.
- 28. Which of the following is NOT true?
 - A. A wolf call is really popular to women.
 - B. Appearances don't always tell the truth to us.
 - C. Children had better not wolf down food at meal time.
 - D. American English has a lot of expressions with animals.
- 29. Where is it possible for us to find the passage above?
 - A. A science report.

- B. A story about American history.
- C. A book for travel guide.
- D. A program for English learning.

四、阅读短文,根据短文内容回答问题。(共10分,每小题2分)

Mr. Guo is a teacher from Xi' an. He asked his students to hand in their homework through a QR code. "We spent about an hour in class learning how to generate (使产生) the codes, and in the end everything gets easier." Said Guo, "When students finish the homework, they keep it on WeChat. Then, each student makes his QR code and gives it to me. So I can check their work anywhere using my computer or telephone."

QR code

The students can send the QR codes to Mr. Guo by email, QQ and WeChat. When Guo scans (扫描) his students' QR codes, their homework appears on his phone. He finds that their homework becomes more creative (有创新性的), with many pictures, music and even videos.

Gua's students like the new way and think it is interesting. "We are living in the information age. Many students like to work with computers, which makes learning more fun. "Said Tingting, a student of Guo's. "The paper is not easy to keep, but the code is easy to keep and share. "Guo said, "It is good to try to use something new in education (教育). Education itself is a kind of creation. I don't want my students to fall behind the times."

However, some parents are worried. They are afraid that their children will spend too much time on computers and less time communicating (交流) with teachers. But in fact, it's unnecessary. Students still need to look up information in books and write it down when they do their homework. They only use the codes when they hand in their work, which doesn't take them too much time. Also for teachers, it allows them to check the students' work at any time. And it's also an easy way to share homework with other students.

- 30. How long did Mr. Guo's students spend learning how to generate the codes?
- 31. How can the students send the QR codes to Mr. Guo?
- 32. Do the students like the new way of handing in homework?
- 33. Why are some parents worried about the way?
- 34. Do you think it is a good way to hand in the homework? Why or why not?
