As modern games come out, people forget about the old ones. Teachers at a primary school ask their students to write games they know. They are surprised that many students know more about online games.

It is easy to see many of today's school children don't know those traditional games like hide-and-seek (捉迷藏) and jump rope games. They like to play computer games, go to the Internet, and play online games.

jump rope game

A teacher says, "Children forget those old games. It's sad."

The old games are usually outdoor activities. Children can play in breaks and after school. They often need friends to play with. They feel happy.

Jump rope games are always popular in countries all over the world. People like playing in different ways.

When a parent talks about her primary school, she says, "Rubber band(橡皮筋) jumping is so interesting. Girls love playing this game. This game can help children learn their jumping skills and make friends."

But most primary school students today take their breaks in the classroom. They are busy with their studies.

"I think children should play many different outdoor games, but most of them don't know what to play or how to play it," a 40-year-old mother says. "Online games are bad for their eyes and these children don't know what teamwork is."

Schools, teachers and parents are trying to encourage (鼓励) children to play more traditional outdoor games.

We're sitting too much and it's dangerous. Most students spend over six hours sitting at school every day. But your body may get weak (虚弱的) if you sit a lot. Luckily, there are some changes you can make during the day to keep healthy.

- Walk to school.

This makes you start off your mornings actively (积极地) and be ready to take on the schoolwork. If you take the bus, get off one stop earlier to take some easy exercise before 8 a.m.

- Get up and move around between classes.

When you are busy with work, it's easy to forget the time. You can get up from your seat and take a walk around the classroom between classes. You can use this time to fill up (填满) your water bottle and go to the bathroom.

- Use your lunch break to move around outside.

So many students study during their lunch break. You can walk outside and enjoy the nice weather. Fresh air (新鲜空气) can make you keep a clear head.

34. How long do most students spend sitting at school every day?

35. What can students do between classes?

36. Why should students walk outside and enjoy the nice weather?

37. How many hours do you sit at school every day? What changes can you make to keep healthy?
