题目②

Life is about choices. Destiny is not a matter of chance but a matter of choice. I realized the truth of it from one of my past experiences.

When I was in Grade 8, there was an important English competition. If I chose to attend it, I needed to read piles of relevant materials, which would take up most of my leisure time. However, deep in my heart I could feel my desire to challenge myself and broaden my horizons. After weighing all of pros and cons, I finally decided to attend it. Once I made my choice, I buried myself in those books, reports and essays. Although I met with so many difficult words and complicated knowledge, I never set back. Finally, I got two prizes in the competition.

It proved to be a wise choice later. This experience has had a lasting influence on me. First of all, I have realized that I am the master of my life who should be responsible for my choices and decisions. More importantly, I came to understand success depends on determination and hard work. Only when I dare to challenge myself could I have the courage to become a better person.
