Jayden watched the kids on the school playground. Some were running and playing games, while others were kicking a dirty old football. It was his third day at his new school, and he 24 someone would ask him to play. But no one did.

Jayden missed his old 25. "Why did we have to move?" he said to himself quietly. "I don't have any friends here. Back home, I had Shawn and Jorge and Nora."

When he reached his house, it was 26. Then he noticed a note. It read, "Barry and I are across the street at our neighbor's house. Come on over."

In the neighbor's backyard, Jayden saw his mother and a woman drinking tea and chatting. His three-year-old brother Barry was playing with a little girl in a sandbox.

"Hi!" his mother called. "How was school today?"

"Okay," Jayden said, 27 it wasn't.

"This is our neighbor, Mrs. Ori, and her little girl Ava."

Just then Ava 28 out for the toy car at Barry's feet.

"Uh-oh," Jayden thought.

The car was Barry's favorite toy, and if anybody else touched it, he would cry and kick. But that didn't 29. Instead, Barry watched Ava push the car through the sand. Then he picked up a toy truck and did the same.

That night, Jayden did some thinking. "Maybe I was wrong. I've been 30 people to make friends with me. Maybe I should try to make friends with them," he said to himself.

The next day, Jayden took a football to school. He went to Tyler, one of the players, on the playground.

"Hi," Jayden smiled. "I got this new ball for my birthday. Do you want to try it instead of that old one?"

"Sure!" Tyler answered. "Do you want to be on my side? What position do you play?"

Out loud, Jayden said, "I'd love to." To himself, he said, "Whoever thought I could 31 something from my three-year-old brother!"

Different Ideas About Free Time

Tzu Lee

People think that teenagers have a lot of free time, but it's not true. We get a lot of homework. But this term I'd like to do some acting, so I'll probably join the Film Club. I think it's important to do different things, not just study, study, study all the time. A teenager's life isn't easy!

Jack

We have a lot of free time because we don't need to work. There are many activities for old people in our town. On Mondays we play chess. On Tuesdays, we go dancing. On Thursdays, we go swimming. On Fridays, we go for long walks. Sometimes, we go on short bus trips to different places or visit a museum. We're never bored. It's not a bad life!

Jack's mom

I'm a working mom, so I don't have much free time. When I get home, I cook dinner, watch a little TV, and then go to bed. On the weekends, I like spending time with my kids. We go fishing or biking if the weather's nice. I like walking too. It's relaxing but the kids always say that it's boring.

It's 5 a. m. ! James has to get up. He is in Africa, on the grassland of Kenya. He is visiting the Masai people ( 马赛族人 ). He is helping them with their cows. James even carries a stick to keep the lions away. Yes, it's a hard job for a 14-year-old boy from Virginia, but James wants to help them.

James' trip to Africa isn't a holiday. It's part of classes at Langley School. James' teacher is Joseph. He is a member of Africa's Masai people of Kenya. Every summer he takes some of his students and their parents on a two-week trip to his hometown. Kenya is a whole new world for the kids from Virginia. When they get there, the American kids put on Masai clothes. Boys take care of cows. Girls collect firewood and water. Families there live on their cows. As a result, the Masai and the students have to move a lot, so the cows have grass to eat.

Back in the United States, Kenya is on the minds of the students at Langley School all year. Dry weather has killed many cows in Kenya, so the students created an activity called Cows for Kids to raise money for them. They use the money to buy cows. Each cow costs about $100. "One cow means more to the health of a family than money," says Joseph. "Here we're really giving life. A cow will give a child milk every day."

A baby owl  fell out of its nest  last week on Washington Boulevard. The bird got help from people at a bird sanctuary. A sanctuary is a place where animals are kept safe. The workers at the Pelican(鹈鹕)Man Bird Sanctuary cared for the bird at their hospital. Then they returned the bird to its nest.

The baby owl fell 40 feet. Luckily, it was not hurt badly. The workers at the hospital fed the bird. They kept it warm and safe. The baby owl looked like a soft white ball and its eyes were still closed.

The workers asked a tree service to help them put the bird back in its nest. The tree service used a crane (起重机) with a long neck to put the baby owl back carefully. The workers thought the other baby probably pushed the baby bird out of its nest.

The team went back after two days to check on the baby owl. Its parents were feeding and taking care of it. The baby owl was safe.

The sanctuary was started by Dale Shields. Dale was called the "Pelican Man" because at first he only helped pelicans. Later he and his helpers started saving any animal in need. So far they have helped birds, deer, bats, foxes, turtles, and frogs.

Wild animals get hurt in many ways. For example, water birds get hurt in fishing lines. Animals are also hit by cars or boats. Water and land pollution hurts animals, too. Many of the animals the sanctuary helps are in danger. The workers want to help make sure the animals don't die out.

People call the sanctuary when they see a hurt bird or other wildlife. Sanctuary workers go to pick up the animal. Then they take the animal to the hospital. Their work helps many animals survive.

Half of the animals the sanctuary helped finally returned to the wild. Other animals, like Moe, need special care. Moe is a swan who was hurt by a dog. It lost one of its wings, so it can't fly. Today, Moe and other animals like him live at the sanctuary.

It was a cold winter afternoon before Christmas. My parents and I were waiting for the train. There were many people inside the waiting hall.

A boy sat nearby. His worn jacket, pale face, dirty hands all seemed to tell me that he was homeless.

"He must be cold and hungry. Maybe I should help him," I said to myself.

"Sure, son, but only if you share that sandwich with me. 45 ."

We were all touched. Dad went away and soon returned with cups of hot chocolate and a big pizza. Mum and dad went up to them, "Excuse me..."

The Winter Olympic Games

The Winter Olympic Games are a big international sports event. The Games take place every four years. The first Winter Olympics, the 1924 Winter Olympics, were in Chamonix, France. There were some ice sports such as skiing, skating, ice hockey, ski jumping and speed skating.

八年级期末 英语试卷 第7页(共8页)

The 24th Winter Olympic Games will be held in Beijing. It will be from 4 to 20 February, 2022. There will be three zones (区域) for the Games: Beijing, Yanqing, and Zhangjiakou.

The Beijing zone will be for the opening and closing ceremonies (仪式) and ice sports. Yanqing zone will be mainly used for skiing competitions. Zhangjiakou zone will be for the snow sports. Both Yanqing and Zhangjiakou zones are on the north-west of the Beijing zone, near the Yanshan Mountain. With pleasant temperatures and a perfect environment, these two places are good choices for the snow sports of Beijing 2022.

The high-speed railway can take people to the three zones and make the travel time shorter between the Beijing and Zhangjiakou zones, only 50 minutes (station to station). Within each zone, the convenient public transport can take players to the stadiums or fields within 5 to 15 minutes from the Olympic Villages. In 2008, the 28th Summer Olympics were held in Beijing. In 2022, Beijing will become the first city to hold both the summer and winter Olympics.

二、阅读下面短文,根据短文内容,从短文后各题所给的 A、B、C、D 四个选项中,选择最佳选项。(共8分,每小题2分)

"Click!" That's the sound of safety. That's the sound of a seat belt locking in place. Seat belts save lives and that's a fact. That's why I don't drive anywhere until mine is locked. Choosing to wear your seat belt is as simple as choosing between life and death. Which one do you choose?

Think about it. When you're driving in a car down the road, you may be going 80 km an hour or faster. Then somebody ahead of you locks up his or her brakes (刹车). You don't have time to stop. Your car knocks into that one. Now it has suddenly stopped. Your body, however, is still going 80 km an hour. What's going to stop your body? Will it be the windshield (挡风玻璃) or your seat belt? Every time you get into a car, you make that choice. I choose the seat belt.

Some people think that seat belts are uncool. They think that seat belts are uncomfortable. To them I say, what's more uncomfortable? Wearing a seat belt or flying through a car windshield? What's more uncool? Being protected by your car, or flying down to the road in your jean shorts? Wearing a seat belt is both cooler and more comfortable.

Let's just take a closer look at your choices. If you are not wearing your seat belt, you can get in and out of your seat easily. That sounds like a lot of fun. But, you are also more likely to get hurt real badly or even die. If you are wearing a seat belt, you have to stay in your seat. That's no fun. But, you are much more likely to walk away unharmed from a car accident. Humm... A small pleasure or a serious pain. That's a difficult choice. I think that I'll avoid the serious pain.

How about giving money away? Do you like to give your money away? Probably not. And when you don't wear your seat belt, you are begging to give your money away. That's because kids are required (要求) to wear seat belts in every state in America. If you're riding in a car, and you don't have a seat belt on, the police can give you or your driver a ticket. I'd rather keep my money, but you can spend yours however you want.

Wearing a seat belt does not make you safe all the time. You can still get hurt or killed while wearing your seat belt. But wearing seat belts has turned out to be safer than going without them. You are much less likely to be killed in a car accident if you are wearing a seat belt. You are much less likely to get seriously injured if you are wearing one. So why not take the safer way? Why not go the way that has turned out to result in fewer deaths? You do want to live, don't you?

 B. many people don't like seat belts because they look uncool
 C. seat belts are useless while we are driving too fast
 D. the writer prefers to wear a seat belt while driving
10. What would be the best title for the passage?
 A. Difficult Choices      B. Seat Belts      C. Driving Rules      D. Pleasure or Pain
