It is time to go home from the park, and the cars are waiting for the boys. But Mike is not going to get into the car because he can not find his dog Rocky anywhere. He calls and calls, but the little dog does not 24.

All the other boys help Mike look for Rocky. But no one can find the little black and white dog, and at last Mike has to go home without him.

“Maybe Rocky goes home,” says one of the boys.

25 Mike does not find Rocky at home. “He may find his way home tomorrow morning,” says Mike’s father. “It is too far for a little dog like Rocky to find his way home. I can 26 see him again,” says Mike. He is very 27. And his parents are sorry for him.

“Come and eat your dinner now,” says his mother. “We will all look for Rocky tomorrow morning.”

But Mike can’t eat his dinner. He keeps thinking about his lost dog.

Just then he hears the telephone ringing and runs to 28 it. A man is talking.

“Hello,” says the man. “Do you have a little black and white dog? A boy tells me your dog runs away.”

“Oh, yes,” says Mike. “His name is Rocky. I can’t find him today at the 29.”

“He is here at my house,” says the man.

“Thank you! Can you put him up to the 30?” says Mike.

“Just a minute,” says the man. “Here he is!”

“Hello, Rocky!” says Mike.

“Bow-wow, bow-wow!” answers Rocky.

The man says “Rocky 31 you. He is trying to get out of the house. Please come and get him at No.3 Park Road. Goodbye.”

Mike goes to get Rocky with his father excitedly.

When We all Grow Up

This is the seventh grade class in the Rock Hill School. The teacher, Miss Jones, writes the words Your Job on the blackboard.

“Boys and girls,” Miss Jones says, “some of you are twelve years old. It’s time to think of what you want to do when you grow up.”

“I’m going to fly a plane. I want to be a flyer. I think that cars and trains are just too slow for people now.” Ned says.

“I want to be a farmer,” Frank says. “Farmers do the most for the world. They grow the food that we all eat.”

Tom wants to be a printer. He brings a small press (印刷机) to class with him the next day. He shows the class how the press works, and then prints a name card for Miss Jones.

“Will all of these things come true? Will this class give the world a farmer, a flyer and a printer?” Miss Jones asks the class. “Let’s all meet right here in ten years. Then we can see what each of us has turned out to be.”

Ten years pass. There is time for hard work. Ned becomes a flyer and Frank becomes a farmer. Now Tom runs a large company, and prints some of the books for the Rock Hill School.

“What you hope for at last would be yours, just live your dream (梦想) and work for it.” Miss Jones says.

36. Ned wants to be a _____.

- A. teacher B. flyer C. printer D. worker

37. Why does Frank want to be a farmer?

- A. Because his father is a farmer.
B. Because his teacher wants him to be one.
C. Because he thinks farmers do the most for the world.
D. Because he knows how to grow different kinds of food.

38. From the passage, we can learn that _____.

- A. Miss Jones has many dreams
B. people often change their dreams
C. people should have dreams and work hard
D. students should work for their schools when they grow up

A Housewarming Party

People often hold a housewarming party when they buy or move into a new house. The party is a time for friends and family to celebrate. It also gives people a chance to see what the new home looks like. It is a time to fill (充满) the new house with love and presents.

It is a tradition to bring a present to a housewarming party. Some usual presents are kitchen knives and cups or anything useful around the house. A decoration (装饰) like a piece of art or a plant is also a good housewarming present. People usually bring food and drink to share with friends at the party. But they never give a cat or a dog as a present, because keeping a pet takes so much time and care, and many people are not ready for a pet.

There are usually no planned activities like games at a housewarming party. The host (主人) will, however, probably show friends around their new home. Sometimes, because a housewarming party happens shortly after people move into their new home, they may ask their friends to help unpack boxes (拆包). But this isn't usual.

firewood

A long time ago, people would actually bring firewood to a new house as a present to keep the house warm in winter. That is how the housewarming party got its name. Now homes have central heating (供暖) and don't use fires to keep warm.

39. Now people never bring _____ as a present to a housewarming party.
- A. a decoration
 - B. food and drink
 - C. a dog or a cat
 - D. a kitchen knife or a cup
40. People have a housewarming party to _____.
- A. help clean the new house
 - B. use fires to warm the house
 - C. show different kinds of presents
 - D. see the new house and celebrate
41. What's the last paragraph mainly about?
- A. How people keep their houses warm now.
 - B. How the housewarming party got its name.
 - C. What activities people do at a housewarming party.
 - D. What presents people bring to a housewarming party.

A Hot-air Balloon Trip

It is very early in the morning. It looks like a good day to go hot-air ballooning. I go outside. The air is cool. There are no strong winds. It is the right kind of weather to go ballooning. Dad, my sister and I put our things in the truck

. We are off!

a hot-air balloon

We drive into a large field. It is time to work. Dad turns on the burner (燃烧器). A fire comes out. It heats (加热) the air inside the balloon. Soon the balloon slowly goes up. Dad, my sister and I quickly climb into the basket. Then it carries us up, up and away! We are up higher than the trees. But I am not afraid. I look down. Everything is so small. Cows and horses look like cats. It is such a great trip.

It is time to land (降落). I'd like to stay up there forever. But Dad tells us that hot-air balloon can't fly at night. Slowly, the balloon begins to go down. We have a good landing. We are lucky there is no strong wind. It is a good trip. I can't wait to do it again!
