B

The Basketball Team

I was always tall for my age. When I started Grade 7, I was taller than all the other students in the school.

But I was never very fit. I just couldn't do things in sports, like throwing a baseball. The ball would fall out of my hand onto the ground.

In Grade 8, we got a new coach(教练) at our school. He took one look at me and said, "This school needs a basketball team, and you are going to be the star!" I laughed, and my friends laughed even more.

"Amy doesn't even know what a basketball is!" joked one of my friends. The new coach said, "Don't worry. I'll show you what she can do."

Every day after school, I worked with the new coach. He told me that because I was so tall, my job would be to play centre. A centre is a player who stands under the net and puts rebounds (篮板球) into the net. Centres are always the tallest on the team.

I did push-ups and sit-ups. Most of all, I practised shooting(投篮). When I first started, I got zero of ten shots I took. But after a few weeks, I had about five of ten shots landing in the basket.

I still wasn't very good. But I was so tall that if someone took a shot I was usually the first one to reach the ball after it came down from the net. I became pretty good at putting the ball into the net.

The season came and went. We didn't do very well, but I learned something about myself that season.

I'm in Grade 9 now and not good enough yet to make it to the high school team. But I think I will be next year.

It's exciting to find something about yourself and to realize(意识到) that you are what you make of yourself.
