B

The neighborhood kids heard Zeke banging in his garage. "What's Zeke doing now?" asked Kevin. "He's always busy with something, but today he's noisier than usual! I'd say strange things will happen. "

"He says he's building an airplane," said Will. "My father gave him a broken lawn mower (割草机). You know Zeke—he can make something out of anything!"

"Zeke bought six loaves of bread and a large jar of peanut butter," said Donny. He wondered nervously what Zeke's vivid imagination was doing with those ordinary things.

Just then they heard a huge noise as something came crashing out of the garage. All the kids saw Zeke's determined, red face under his wild, curly hair. "I'll send postcards!" Zeke shouted bravely as he went up into the clouds.

63. What was Zeke like?

- A. Quiet and shy. B. Nervous and frightened.
C. Imaginative and creative. D. Brave and helpful.

64. What did Zeke do at the end of the story?

- A. Zeke made some noise in the garage.
B. Zeke created a machine that could fly and took off successfully.
C. Zeke went shopping for some bread and peanut butter.
D. Zeke sent some postcards to his friends from the airplane.

Cats are very smart. They are one of the smartest of all tame (驯服的) animals. The brain of a cat is large. It is highly developed. This may be why cats have good memories. Cats remember kindness and cruelty (残暴). It is a good idea to treat a cat well. Cats can "speak" too. They meow for attention. Often they stand by a door. Then they meow. Then they look over their shoulders. They want to see if you are coming. Cats make other noises also. They purr when they are happy. They hiss when they are angry.

Cats have a lot of pride. They usually will not do silly tricks. They seem to know what is beneath them. Almost all cats want to have their own way. They are mostly true to only one person. They don't like to switch loyalty easily. Cats were free in the wild. They want to stay that way. They like to be their own masters. When a cat is left alone, it can go back to caring for itself. It can live in the wild again. This is different from dogs.

With kindness, a cat can be trained. Cats can learn to do many things. Some cats can learn to open doors. Some can ring doorbells. Some can even turn on water. Then they take a drink. Cats are very smart, though. Here is what they do before drinking. They put a paw in the water. They test whether the water is hot or cold.

65. The underlined expression "beneath them" means that_____.

- A. cats think they are too good to do the tricks
- B. cats don't like to be fooled by other cats
- C. cats only like to do tricks in which they can stand out
- D. cats are so good at doing tricks

66. What is the main idea of the passage?

- A. Cats have some strange habits.
- B. Cats are different from dogs.
- C. Cats can be trained to do many things.
- D. Cats are smart but independent (独立的) animals.

D

Imagine having an app that works like this: When you need help, just open the app, touch the "not OK" button and a text message will be sent to up to five pre-selected people, along with a location to show where you are. The message reads:

"Hey, I'm not OK. Please call me, text me, or come find me."

US teenagers Hannah Lucas, 15, and her brother Charlie, 13, have created an app called not OK. It came out in the US and Canada on Jan 31. People just need to pay $1.99 each month to use it.

Hannah was inspired to create the app during a dark time in her life last year. She suffered from a disease that caused her to pass out at school. Other kids sometimes bullied her about this. She felt sad and wanted to find an app that would allow her to get help when she wasn't feeling OK.

She asked her brother Charlie, whose nickname is "Tech Support", to find such an app. When they couldn't find one, they decided to create one themselves.

They came up with some designs for the app first. Charlie took a programming class last summer and built a website for the app. Hannah also shared her idea in her summer business class. Some app developers showed interest and decided to help her.

Hannah is happy that her app is helping others. "It makes everything I went through last year worth it," she said.

67. Which of the following is NOT true about the app not OK?

- A. Hannah Lucas and her brother created this app.
- B. Users can call for help by using a button in the app.
- C. It can only send a message to one person.
- D. Users can send their location and messages through this app.

68. What can we learn from the last two paragraphs?

- A. Charlie and Hannah created this app on their own.
- B. Charlie took programming classes for many years.
- C. Charlie and Hannah earned a lot of money from this app.
- D. Charlie and Hannah are happy to see their app help others.

February 15: My video class teacher told us about a match to film local wildlife. The deadline(截止日期) is March 1st. The winner gets to go with a famous filmmaker to Alaska. This will be easy!

I'm on my way to be famous!

Carlotta

February 17: Today I realized there's little wildlife in a city. I saw two squirrels in a park, but before I could film them, a dog ran after them up an oak tree. I shouted at the dog, which growled (咆哮) at me.

Later, I convinced my brother Vincent to drive into the countryside. You think I'd find wildlife, but not unless worms, flies, and mosquitoes count!

Help!

Carlotta

February 23: My friend Angela has an uncle who is a farmer. He is always complaining about annoying raccoons(浣熊), so Angela suggested I film them for my video.

Today I wandered around the farm. Suddenly, I heard Angela shout, and I turned to see the world's strongest pig. The pig chased (ran after) us, but we were speedier. Once safely over a fence, I filmed the pig, but my teacher says a pig is not wildlife.

I'm not ready to give up!

Carlotta

February 28: The deadline nears, and after failing to make my cats act like baby tigers, I got a crazy idea. I dragged Angela and two friends to a costume (服装) shop. By noon, I was filming three large gorillas (大猩猩) at play. Vincent even got into the act as a bad gorilla hunter. This may not be what the judges want, but I'm sending it in!

Carlotta

March 15: I won! I didn't get the first prize, but I did receive the "Good Try" award. The judges voted my video the funniest ever. I'm not going to Alaska, but I'm on my way to a job as a filmmaker!

Just say you knew me when.

Carlotta

69. What do you think is the best title for the diary?

- A. Imagination is More Important than Knowledge.
- B. Where There's a Will, There's a Way.
- C. Mistakes Are the Proof That You Are Trying.
- D. A Friend in Need is a Friend Indeed.

70. How do you know that Carlotta was not going to give up her plans?

- A. She decided to take part in the match and she went to a park.
- B. She shouted at the dog and ran away from the pig.
- C. She made her cats act like baby tigers and sent the video to the judges.
- D. She went to the country to look for wildlife and filmed her friends dressed as gorillas.

七、阅读短文, 根据短文内容回答问题。(共 10 分, 每小题 2 分)

Until the early twentieth century, attempts to transfuse blood (输血) from one person to another person were usually unsuccessful. Then, in 1901, Karl Landsteiner, an Austrian scientist, discovered that blood was divided into four types. These four blood types were named A, B, AB and O. Blood type O is the most common around the world. Blood type A is the second most common: and type AB is the least common. If people with type A blood are given type B blood, or people with type B blood are given type

A blood, they will probably die.

In 1927, a Japanese doctor, Furukawa Takeji, carried out research and came up with the idea that people with different blood types had different personalities (性格). Type A people are said to be calm and serious; people with type B blood are curious, cheerful and outgoing; people with type O blood are generous and honest; while those with type AB blood are caring, original and careful.

In recent years, interest in blood types has grown in the US, and one book, Eat Right for Your Type, has been popular with people who want to lose weight.

71. Did Karl Landsteiner discover four types of blood?

72. If people with type A blood are given type B blood, what will happen to them?

73. When did the Japanese doctor carry out research?

74. People with which blood are said to be curious?

75. What kind of people are interested in Eat Right for Your Type?
